Karl Barth (/ b ər t, b ər ɜː /; German: ; () 10 May 1886 - () 10 December 1968) was a Swiss Calvinist theologian who is most well known for his landmark commentary The Epistle to the Romans (1921), his involvement in the Confessing Church, and authorship of the Barmen Declaration, and especially his unfinished multi-volume theological summa the Church Dogmatics (published between 1932 ...

The Hauerwas Reader Stanley

For Hauerwas, this was because the churches had become so caught up in exerting power that they had neglected their mission of love and service. While Farrell is right that Christian practice in Ireland has declined rapidly, it is something of an exaggeration to claim that belief has 'vanished'.
